

SERVICE CONTRACT ACT CERTIFICATION

The Contractor certifies --

- 1) In providing maintenance, calibration, and or repair of automated data processing equipment and office information/word processing systems; maintenance, calibration, and or repair of scientific equipment and medical apparatus or equipment where the application of microelectronic circuitry or other technology of at least similar sophistication is an essential element; or maintenance, calibration, and or repair of other office machines, where such services are performed by the manufacturer or supplier of the equipment; that the services to be performed under the contract are (i) commercial; (ii) the services will be furnished at established catalog or market prices; and (iii) that the contractor uses the same wage and fringe benefit plans for employees working under the contract or subcontract as used for equivalent employees servicing commercial customers;
OR
- 2) In providing automobile or other vehicle maintenance services; financial services involving the issuance and servicing of cards (including credit cards, debit cards, purchase cards, smart cards, and similar card services); hotels/motel conference services, including lodging and/or meals which are part of the contract fee the conference; maintenance, calibration, repair and/or installation (where the installation is not subject to the Davis-Bacon Act) services for all types of equipment where the services are obtained from the manufacturer or supplier of the equipment; transportation services by common carrier of persons by air, motor vehicle, rail, or marine vessel on regularly scheduled routes or via standard commercial services (not including charter services); real estate services, including real property appraisal services, related to housing federal agencies or disposing of real property owned by the Federal Government ; relocation services, including services of real estate brokers and appraisers, to assist federal employees or military personnel in buying or selling homes (which shall not include actual moving or storage of household goods and related services); that the services to be performed under the contract are (i) commercial; (ii) the services will be furnished at established catalog or market prices; (iii) each service employee performing the services under the contract spend only a small portion of his or her time (less than 20% of the available hours on an annualized basis, or less than 20% of available hours during the contract period if the contract period is less than a month) servicing the contact or subcontract; and (iv) that the contractor uses the same wage and fringe benefit plans for employees working under the contract or subcontract as used for equivalent employees servicing commercial customers.

SIGNED

Date

Title

Company